CIA Undergraduate Scholarship Program

The Undergraduate Scholarship Program is a financial needs based initiative that offers undergraduate students an unmatched experience in a diverse and inclusive environment. Undergraduate students, serving as scholarship recipients with the CIA, attend an accredited college/university on a full-time basis and work during summer breaks at the Agency. While working at the CIA, you will be exposed to real intelligence challenges while performing meaningful work that relates to your college major. An IT major, for example, might be given increasingly complex projects involving sophisticated computer systems. An engineering major might help produce a piece of state-of-the-art equipment. A finance major could be involved in developing and analyzing budgets for a worldwide operation, while a foreign language major might be instrumental in translating documents for US policymakers. An international relations major might brief a senior policymaker and, as a final example, a human resources major could have the opportunity to develop and implement personnel policies and procedures.

If selected as a scholarship recipient, you will receive a wide array of benefits, including:

- Tuition assistance up to $18,000 per calendar year for tuition, mandatory fees and books
- Daily allowance for meals and incidentals during summer tours
- Reimbursement for transportation costs between school and Washington, DC
- Annual salary
- Health insurance
- Life insurance
- Federal retirement plans
- Paid time off, as well as sick and holiday leave

Because the CIA invests in scholarship recipients, accepting an offer means continued employment with the Agency for a specified timeframe. You are required to work at the Agency after college graduation for a period equal to 1.5 times the length of the college sponsorship you received from CIA. Students who leave earlier are required to reimburse the US government for their tuition. All positions require relocation to the Washington, DC Metropolitan area during summer work tours.

- U.S. citizens
- High school seniors who have been accepted to an accredited U.S. college or students currently enrolled at an accredited U.S. college
- Carrying a minimum GPA of 3.00

Topics for Essay or Video

1. Are automatic pool cleaners better for the environment than manual pool cleaning?
2. What can manufacturers do to lessen the number of injuries from pressure washers?
3. In 2017, researchers created a polymer sponge that only absorbs oil and not water. How could this technology be used in floor mops for homes and businesses?
4. Walmart has introduced robot mops to clean store floors in some locations in the US. The VP of central operations says it will help associates focus more on other tasks. However, some think this kind of technology is taking away jobs. Do you agree or disagree?
5. With flesh-eating bacteria infections on the rise, could robotic pool cleaners give pool owners a false sense of security so they neglect proper pool maintenance? Should manufacturers of these machines be educating the public on this subject?
6. How can gas pressure washers be improved to make them more eco-friendly?
7. When you think about the time from manufacturing to home operation, do you think electric pressure washers leave more or less of a carbon footprint than gas pressure washers?
8. A marketing campaign for a steam mop featuring a model who looks like the WWII “Rosie the Riveter” caused a lot of controversy over how women are portrayed in cleaning commercials. With working women still doing the majority of the housework, should more manufacturers target men in their commercials? Would it influence how households balance the workload?
9. The movie “Joy” from 2015 was inspired by Joy Mangano, creator of one of the first spin mops. Should more movies be made featuring women entrepreneurs in the cleaning industry, or would that perpetuate the stereotype of women doing housework?
10. Are robot vacuums an eco-friendly solution to clean floors?

IntelliGenesis

The IntelliGenesis Memorial Scholarship previously called, the “Neal Sullivan Scholarship”, was created in 2010 in memory of our original employees, Neal Sullivan, who passed away way too soon, during the beginning years of our company. The scholarship was a way to memorialize Neal’s contribution to the company and keep his name alive. Since then, we’ve lost other important and valued team members to include, Greg Cassagne and Carolyn Sullivan. Both who also greatly supported IntelliGenesis and who are dearly missed.

Therefore, on the 10th anniversary of the scholarship award, we’ve decided to rename it to the “IntelliGenesis Memorial Scholarship” to include the other team members that we’ve lost along the way.

- High School 2020 Graduate

- Minimum 3.5 High School GPA

Living with Autism Scholarship

About the Scholarship

The team at Hammack Law Firm has a personal understanding of autism, including what is involved in raising and being a sibling to a person with autism. Lawyer Paul Hammack is the parent of an autistic child and has witnessed the impact of being on the spectrum for an autistic child in school.

“Often, children with autism struggle in mainstream education to learn within the traditional education framework and are often misunderstood,” Hammack explains. “Because our high school special needs programs may focus more on life skills than education fundamentals, autistic children may not be encouraged to continue their secondary education. The result of all of this is that only a small percentage of autism spectrum disorder students go on to college.”

The team at Hammack Law Firm supports autistic children who choose to pursue higher education despite the unique challenges they might face. Through the Living with Autism scholarship, Hammack Law Firm aims to recognize young people seeking to better themselves through education and their families’ hard work.

Eligibility for the Scholarship

In order to qualify for the Living With Autism scholarship, applicants must:

SALLIE MAE LAUNCHES FREE SCHOLARSHIP SEARCH TOOL FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

Company's Graduate School Scholarship Search Home to More than 850,000 Scholarships Exclusively for Graduate Students, Worth More than $1 Billion

Sallie Mae, the nation's saving, planning, and paying for college company, today launched the new go-to destination for graduate school scholarships. Sallie Mae's free Graduate School Scholarship Search is now available to current and prospective graduate school and professional students and is home to more than 850,000 graduate school scholarships worth more than $1 billion.

Getting started is easy; students register free of charge, fill out a profile that can be updated at any time, and start searching. The tool responds with matches that identify relevant scholarships and their award amounts, application requirements, and deadlines. In addition, Graduate School Scholarship Search automatically will send updates when it identifies new matches.

Available scholarships and fellowships run the gamut of graduate school disciplines, including business, law, medical, health care and nursing, engineering, and education, and range from a few thousand to tens of thousands of dollars. Those who register for Sallie Mae's Graduate School Scholarship Search are also automatically registered for the Sallie Mae $1,000 Sweepstakes, which awards $1,000 each month to a winner selected at random. For official sweepstakes rules, visit Sallie Mae \$1,000 Sweepstakes. No purchase necessary. Void where prohibited.

The Graduate School Scholarship Search tool is especially relevant given recent research from Sallie Mae and Ipsos on how students are paying for graduate school. According to "How America Pays for Graduate School," two-thirds of grad students (64 percent) believe an advanced degree is the new minimum standard level of education for any professional occupation, and nearly all (95 percent) say an advanced degree is necessary to enter, advance, accelerate, or remain competitive in their chosen career.

"Today's students see graduate school as a critical component to a successful career, and although most have a plan to pay for it, many are unaware of the availability of scholarships and where to find them," said Martha Holler, senior vice president, Sallie Mae. "Our free and easy-to-use Graduate School Scholarship Search is the one-stop shop for graduate school scholarships that simplifies and automates the search for free money for grad school."
